Working in Partnership with the Dispensing Doctors’ Association

The DDA recognises that suppliers to dispensing practice want - and need - to work in partnership with dispensing doctors.

As the only organisation to specialise in dispensing practice matters, the DDA is uniquely placed to offer unrivalled expertise and insight into this branch of GP practice. The DDA Board comprises GPs with many decades of first-hand experience of dispensing practice, and its Executive brings real-time knowledge of the political and regulatory environment in which dispensing practices now operate.

As a non-profit making organisation, the DDA is pleased to be able to offer suppliers a number of opportunities to work with us to the benefit of dispensing practice.

Please read the following sections to see how we can work with you to improve your offer to dispensing practice.

Working in association with a team of editorial and design professionals, the DDA is pleased to be able to offer its suppliers and business partners the facility to develop and create bespoke editorial products.

Editorial products that are carefully developed, written and designed with the specific needs of dispensing practice staff in mind will become an invaluable resource for staff working at the coal face of dispensing practice.

By helping staff in their everyday practice, editorial products developed in conjunction with the DDA will speak very loudly to dispensing practice staff and will place your product or company right at the very centre of dispensing practice.

Thanks to its expertise and insight into dispensing practice, the DDA is able to guide the development of your editorial product from inception through to delivery.

The DDA fulfils a vital role in dispensing practice, providing crucial advice, support, resources and help to dispensing practices across Great Britain. As a non profit-making organisation, the DDA is delighted to be able to call on the financial support of a number of Corporate Supporters, without whose help the DDA would not be able to support the needs of its membership so effectively.

In return for your support, Corporate Supporters receive a special mention and a website link from the DDA’s Website.

To discuss your requirements and to see examples of the type of editorial products we can develop on your behalf, please contact us at the DDA Office.
The DDA is pleased to be able to offer its members exclusive member discounts – and in the process this drives valuable, highly-motivated and engaged business towards our Partner Companies.

DDA Partner Companies and Services are actively promoted to DDA Members as a benefit of DDA Membership, and Partner Companies and Services receive a special listing on our website.

The DDA would be delighted to include your company as a Partner Company.

For more information on becoming a Partner Company, please contact us the DDA Office.

Website Sponsorship
Be seen in dispensing practice

The DDA’s website, dispensingdoctor.org, is the only website to specialise in publishing daily news, and resources of relevance to dispensing practices across Britain.

As well as our daily news service, DDA Online also offers DDA Members a wealth of resources designed to support them in every aspect of dispensing practice. Whether the information need relates to clinical, dispensary management, HR or GP pharmacy ownership, dispensingdoctor.org is proud to be able to say that it is the only website that has all the information that dispensing practices need.

The website, relaunched in 2014, also offers our suppliers and business partners a host of opportunities to bring your brands right into the heart of dispensing practice. Our analytics service will also help you to understand the exposure you can expect your brand to receive.

Website Sponsorship costs are available from the DDA Office on request.

If you are interested in including your brand on our website, please contact us at the DDA Office.
